American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulging too much in party feelings:—the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations: of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, s the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

MR. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at York-town, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and appropriate character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be compleated, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by MR. Amies. The INK shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials.

The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN: and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splended edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splended Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next, That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A "Legislator for its Security! A magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscsiptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engravings. Philadelphia, July 31.

Exchange & Broker's Office,

Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS,

AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

Gone to the Southward or Westward,

A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia Detcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two week ago, by a man of the name of Basset. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.

THE STRANGER IN ALEXANDRIA.

MR. EDITOR,

I arrived here yesterday in the stage—gave the driver a glass of grog—drove very fast—good road—put up at Brown's hotel—excellent accommodations—clever landlord—obliging waiters.—After getting breakfast this morning, strolled about town—don't know the name of the streets—no signs at the corners as in Baltimore—girls pleuty—beaux not in the Cossack style—peeped on your wharves—no brokers running nor borrowing money—am told your banks don't discount much—merchants look mad, because flour has fallen—have no United States bank here—fine thing for the people, do more harm than good—appears to me all the business is done in the street.—Not so many patriots here as in Baltimore—all patriots in Baltimore—patriot newspapers and patriotic people—was told you have one patriot paper here—should like to see it—guess it's a smart paper—don't know, only think so.—Gave my history of Baltimore in the Federal Republican.—Don't intend staying in Alexandria long—going on to Richmond soon—expect to spend the winter there—very much pleased with this place—was almost afraid to stay in Baltimore—too many democrats—don't like their postmaster—was told he was rich—made his fortune by privateering—good republican—clever neighbor—decent looking man—all for money. Went home—got dinner—all very good—did not go out in the evening.

CHICKASAW TREATY.

Treaty Ground, Oct. 19, 1818.

To the editors of the Nashville Whig:

We have just closed a treaty with the Chickasaw Indians, for all their claim in the states of Tennessee and Kentucky, containing about seven millions of acres, of the best lands in the western country, and washed by the Tennessee, Ohio and Mississippi rivers, for at least three hundred and fifty miles, for an annuity of twenty thousand dollars for fifteen years.

I am, respectfully, &c.

ANDREW JACKSON.

The account of Col. D. Boon's death, published in a Chilicothe paper, is entirely a fabrication, probably framed for the purpose of introducing the fanciful incident of this heroic woodsman, breathing his last with his cheek pressed against the butt of his favorite rifle. We have lately seen a gentleman who was at Col. Boon's house in August last, when the old gentleman was perfectly healthy, and wore the appearance of not being more than 65 years of age, although he is between 80 and 90. His sight had failed him so much as to unfit him for his accustomed amusement and business of hunting. This is almost the only symptom of old age which appears to affect him.—The chace with him was a passion which he indulged to extravagance. When the periodical hunting season arrives, he represents himself as laboring under the most restless anxiety for some days, and he declares that nothing can compensate him for the pleasure he is deprived of in not being able to pursue the buffaloe and deer as formerly, to the centre of the Missouri desarts.

The family of Col. Boon consisting of his sons and daughters, with their wives and husbands, live near each other and form a most interesting groupe. So far from the characteristics of savage life which they have been represented to posses, the sons are described to us as well bred gentlemen, distinguished by some of those grand features of mind which are so often found in our native sons of the forest. They own a fine estate in land, granted to the individuals of the family by the crown of Spain. They are eminently useful to strangers who explore the land on the Missouri and Osage, and the hospitality of every branch of this family is the theme of every traveller who extends his journey to the neighborhood of their settlement. [Pittsburg Gazette.

SPANISH AFFAIRS.

Extract of a letter to the editors of the Norfolk Herald from their obliging correspondent at Gibraltar, dated "Gibraltar, Sept. 26.

"The only news I have to communicate by this opportunity is the recent change of ministers at Madrid, which probably may be an event of more interest than many are aware of: time however will shew.

"I have before me a letter from Madrid of the 15th inst. which says—'On my return I found that His Catholic majesty had turned out of his employment, Messrs. Pizarro, (Minister of State) Garay, (of Finance) and Figuera. The first has been sent under a strong guard to Peniscola, (a small island on the coast of Spain) the second to Saragossa, and the third to Galicia. The first is replaced by the Marquis de Casa Yruga, (ad interim) of famous memory in the U. States!—It appears that Pizarro had made during the short period he was in office 500,000 dollars, (one half of which he received from John Bull for abolishing the slave trade) besides large presents in diamonds.'

"The ship liberty, Martin, from your port, will leave Cadiz in a few days for Philadelphia—the schooner Charles, K. Mallory, will sail hence for Norfolk in a few days—the ship Pekin, captain Commerford, of Boston, has put into Malaga in distress, and will be condemned.—The U. States' sloop of war Peacock is now here.

"As it may interest their friends, I send you a list of American prisoners, now confined at Centz, who were taken in Mina's army:

"Mr. Wm. Thompson, St. Mary's, Md.
"Captain Z. Sears, Boston.
"Mr. T. Weston, Philadelphia.
"Joseph Davis, Hampshire co. Va.
"Thomas C. Conkling, Baltimore.
"They are in chains, but meet better treatment than could have been expected: bad enough, however."

Boston, November 9.

FROM HALIFAX.

Since our last we have been politely favored with a file of Halifax papers to Nov. 2d. They contain very little interesting matter; we have however made one or two extracts.

Prices at Halifax, Oct. 29.—Beef, mess, 80 a 85s; bread, ship, 30 a 35s; do. pilot, 50s; candles, sperm. 3 a 3s 3d; corn 6 a 6s 6d; coffee 1s 9d; cod fish, W. I. 13 a 14s sales; salmon 77 6d a 80s; flour, Am. sup. 55 a 57s 6d; do. rye, 31s 3d; lard, 1 1s 3d, brisk; molasses, W. I. 3s; tar, 17s 6d a 20s, scarce; rosin, 22s 6d, dull: plaster ton 15s; pork, mess new, 130s; rice 42s 6d a 45s; staves W. O. none, and in demand; shot 45s.—Gov. bills, 30 days, 1½ per cent. premium.

St. Johns, October 3.

The weather has been so wet and unfavorable, during the last fortnight or three weeks, that in some instances, we are told, it has been found necessary to remove the hall cured fish from the flakes, back again to the stages to be re-salted, as the only means of preserving it from being wholly spoiled; and should the weather continue as at present, this plan must be generally adopted. The catch of fish this season, on almost every part of the coast, has been considerably short of the usual quantity; and we hardly know of an instance in which those engaged in the fishery have not been great losers.

The vessel mentioned as having been struck by lightning on her passage from hence to Norfolk, proves to have been the Matilda, which has since arrived here.—Some injury was done to her masts, and several of the hands severely hurt, but we are happy to learn none of the seamen were killed.

Kingston, Jamaica, October 2.

Several Independent cruizers appear continually off Santa Martha; one of them lately captured a Spanish brigantine, and after taking out whatever was valuable, sent the crew on shore and destroyed the vessel.

American Camel.—A male and female have been brought here in the brig Florida from Santha Martha, and we believe the first of the kind ever seen in this island.—They are natives of the Cordilleras.

Rogersville, (Ten.) Oct. 23.

MOST HORRID ATROCITY.

On Wednesday, a deed of the most shocking enormity was perpetrated at the house of Mr. Robert Gambill, in the vicinity of this place. The particulars as far as we have been able to learn, are as follows: Mr. Gambill had left home early in the day, after which it appears, that his negro boy, about 14 years of age, took his master's rifle gun from the rack in the dwelling house, which he found empty; he loaded it, and then proceeded to the loom house where his mistrees was weaving, and discharged its contents at her through a crevice between the logs of the house. The ball appears to have entered behind her right ear, and came out in her left cheek near her ear. The monster then enticed the balance of the family, consisting Mr. Gambill's three children, the youngest about twelve months old, and a small negro girl about ten years old, to go with him to the barn, when he recommenced the horrid work of destruction, which he had begun with his mistress; he took an axe and dispatched, as he thought, the negro girl, and all the children except the youngest, which he left unhurt. He then hid the axe, and proceeded to the houses of the nearest neighbors, and informed them that some person had come to his master's house, and shot his mistress and killed the children. When the neighbors assembled, a most shocking spectacle was presented to their view. Mrs. Gambill had fallen from her seat at the loom, and lay weltering in her blood, apparently just expiring, and the children lying in the barn yard, apparently dead. The culprit was taken into custody and confessed to the facts above related.—He also states, that he was persuaded to commit the crime by a white man, and a negro belonging to Mr. Cockram, a near neighbor of Mr. Gambill's; the white man and negro are also in custody; all the family are yet living, but little hopes are entertained of the recovery of any but the oldest child.

STATE OF NEW-JERSEY.

An act to prohibit the exportation of slaves or servants of color out of this state.

Sect. 1. Be it enacted by the Council and General Assembly of this state, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That no negro or other slave or servant of color for life or years, shall hereafter be removed, exported or carried out of this state, except as hereinafter provided.

Sect. 2. And be it enacted, That if any person shall send to sea, or export, or attempt to export from this state, or send or carry out of, or attempt to send or carry out of this state, except as is by this act provided, any slave or servant of color for life or years, every person so exporting or attempting to export, or sending or carrying out of this state, or attempting to send or carry out of this state such slave or servant, his, her or their aiders and abettors shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by fine not less than 1000 nor more than 2000 dollars, or imprisonment at hard labor for any term not less than two nor more than four years, or both, at the discretion of the court. And further, that every slave or servant so exported or carried out of this state, or attempted to be exported or carried out of this state, or sent to sea, shall be free.

Sect. 3. And be it enacted, That if any person shall hereafter sell, transfer or assign any slave or servant of color for life or years, to any non-resident or person not being an inhabitant of this state, or to any person intending to remove, or export, or carry such slave or servant out of this state, every person so knowingly selling, transferring or assigning such slave or servant, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by fine not less than 500 nor more than 1000 dolls. or by imprisonment not less than one year, nor more than two, or both, at the discretion of the court. And further, that every slave or servant so sold, transferred or assigned to any non-resident or person not being an inhabitant of this state, or to any person intending to remove, or export, or carry away such slave or servant out of this state, shall be free.

Sect. 4. And be it enacted, That if any person shall purchase, or take a transfer, or assignment, of any slave or servant of color for life or years, with a design or intent to export or send or carry such slave or servant out of this state, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by fine, not less than 1000 nor more than 2000 dollars, or by imprisonment at hard labor not less than two nor more than four years, or both, at the discretion of the court. And further, that every slave or servant so purchased, transferred or assigned, shall be free.

SHIPWRECK.

The following circumstantial and melancholy account of the loss of the brig Sine, of Boston, is from the Liverpool Mercury of Sept. 11.

This week we have the sad task to detail the particulars of two most melancholy catastrophes which have occurred off the neighboring coast. The brig Sine, capt. Doak, sailed from this port on Monday week, for Boston; thirty-two passengers were embarked on board of her. About 10 o'clock on Wednesday night, whilst the two vessels were standing on opposite tacks, she unfortunately ran down the brig Dash, bound from Barmouth to London. The Dash sunk almost instantaneously. Her crew consisted of five persons, two of whom were saved by the exertions of capt. Doak and his crew, and the remainder were unhappily drowned. The Sine's bowsprit was carried away by this lamentable accident, and the vessel seriously damaged by the violence of the shock. Capt. Doak, being incapable of prosecuting the voyage with his vessel in this shattered condition, determined to return to Liverpool to repair. But new misfortunes awaited the ill-fated vessel. Between four and five o'clock, the captain, worn out by his previous exertion, and anxiety for the fatal accident which had occurred, retired to his cabin, after having left the brig in charge of the mate, and given him strict injunctions to keep a sharp look out, and to call him before she got up with the Skerries. The vessel continued on her course till about half past seven o'clock, when she struck on the Platters, off the Welsh coast, near the Skerries light house. The water rushed in with great rapidity, and the vessel was sinking fast. At this dreadful conjuncture, capt. Doak, who had hurried on deck as soon as she struck, ordered the ship's boats to be instantly cleared away. She had only two, the one a long boat, and the other a very small one. The long boat was speedily filled, but only a few persons got into the small one; for, before the whole of the people on the wreck could embark, both boats were cut adrift; the persons on board of them fearing, we suppose, that, if they allowed all to embark, they would be so much crowded as to endanger the lives of the whole. Capt. Doak, who had been actively and anxiously engaged in transhipping the passengers, the mate, a seaman, and many passengers, were thus abandoned to all the horrors of their impending fate. The scene which ensued was awfully affecting. The brig was now nearly under water. Death stared the unfortunates on the wreck in the face. Mothers were seen clinging to their unhappy children in all the agony of maternal despair, piercing the air with their shrieks; whilst the helpless children clung to their distracted parents, looking to them for aid which they could not yield. At this awful moment, the small boat put about and returned towards the vessel. This afforded the people on the wreck a gleam of hope. But it was transient: no entreaties could prevail upon the persons in her to come along side to rescue their companions. At length the vessel went down, in less than half an hour after she struck. Capt. Doak was saved by the boat, which also picked up the mate, who was almost lifeless, two children, two women, and one man. The remainder, consisting of a Mrs. Moor and her four children, Mrs. Croft and her child, Mrs. Latham and her two children, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Taylor, were swallowed up by the remorseless waves. The long-boat was still in sight, making towards the Welsh coast; but capt. Doak pulled off the land, in hopes of meeting with some vessel which might rescue him and his unhappy companions from their still perilous situation. A ship was in sight when the Sine struck, and clewed up her topsails, as if intending to render her assistance, but made all sail away when she went down. The forlorn voyagers, after rowing some distance, were taken up by a pilot boat, which, perceiving the imminence of their danger, had come, with praiseworthy alacrity, to their succour. They then made sail after the long boat, with which they soon came up, and took the people on board. They shortly afterwards fell in with two brigs, bound for this port, between which the survivors were divided, and safely landed here on Friday. Many of them were in a most forlorn and desolate condition, having been roused from their beds by the striking of the vessel, the suddenness of which, and the confusion incident to it, allowing them neither time nor thought to dress themselves. Their immediate wants, we have been informed, were relieved by the humanity of our excellent chief magistrate. A subscription has been since opened for the relief of such of them as have been reduced to a state of destitution by this sad calamity; and we shall be happy to receive the contributions of the benevolent for this humane object.

Most of the unhappy sufferers, it will be perceived, were mothers and their offspring. The history of the voyage of some is sadly affecting. The husbands of two of them, Moor and Croft, are now in the United States, and had sent for their wives and families. Some scenes truly affecting took place during the time the vessel was sinking. An unhappy man saw his wife and two children perish before his eyes, without being able to afford them assistance.—A little boy, belonging to one of the women, was about being put in the boat, but refused to go, saying he would remain and die with his mother.

From the Christian Observer.

DR. FRANKLIN.

The following interesting Speech of the celebrated Dr. Franklin, (who certainly cannot be accused of too much regard to religious observances,) was delivered to the American Convention.

"MR. PRESIDENT—

"The small progress we have made, after four or five weeks close attendance and continued reasoning with each other, our different sentiments on almost every question, several of the last producing as many noes as nays, is methinks a melancholy proof of the imperfection of the human understanding. We indeed seem to feel our want of political wisdom, since we have been running all about in search of it. We have gone back to ancient history for models of government, and examined the different forms of those republics which, having been originally formed with the seeds of their own dissolution, now no longer exist: and we have viewed modern states all round Europe, but find none of their constitutions suitable to our circumstances.

"In this situation of this assembly, groping as it were in the dark to find political truth, and scarcely able to distinguish it when presented to us, how has it happened, sir, that we have not hitherto once thought of humbly applying to the Father of Lights to illuminate our understandings?—In the beginning of the contest with Britain, when we were sensible of danger, we had daily prayers in this room for the Divine protection! Our prayers, sir, were heard, and they were graciously answered. All of us who were engaged in the struggle, must have observed frequent instances of a superintending Providence in our favor. To that kind Providence we owe this happy opportunity of consulting in peace on the means of establishing our future national felicity. And have we now forgotten that powerful Friend? Or do we imagine we no longer need his assistance? I have lived, sir, a long time; and the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth, that God governs in the affairs of men! And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without his notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without his aid?—We have been assured, sir, in the sacred writings, that "except the lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it." I firmly believe this; and I also believe, that without his concurring aid, we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel: we shall be divided by our little, partial, local, interests; our projects will be confounded; and we ourselves will become a reproach and a bye-word down to future ages. And what is worse, mankind may hereafter, from this unfortunate instance, despair of establishing government by human wisdom, and leave it to chance, war, and conquest. I therefore beg leave to move,

"That henceforth prayers imploring the assistance of Heaven, and its blessing on our deliberations, be held in this assembly every morning before we proceed to business; and that one or more of the Clergy of this city be requested to officiate in that service."

Dr. Franklin adds, in a note to his Letters just published, that "the Convention, except three or four persons, thought prayers unnecessary!"

Notice

TO MERCHANTS AND BANKERS.

THE agio at present existing on the paper circulating medium evidently evinces the necessity (even as a defensive measure) of a BROKER'S establishment in this town, to counteract the overwhelming influence of the cities north of us.

The subscribers, therefore, take the liberty (as no other persons have profferred) most respectfully to present themselves as BROKERS.

They give a pledge that every matter of business entrusted to them, will be conducted with zeal, fidelity and secrecy.

The Brokers generally are invited to correspond; as every necessary reference will be given. The Office is kept above the "City Auction Rooms" of John Jackson & Co. They commence on Monday next, the 16th inst.; and they will discount good paper to a certain amount.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses; cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

Gill Nets! Gill Nets!

To the Citizens of Washington, Frederick, and Montgomery counties.

AS the General Assembly of Maryland will sit in the course of a few weeks, I take the liberty of calling the attention of the people of the upper counties to the subject of Gill Nets; that all those who may agree with me in opinion, may unite in petitions to the Legislature to pass such laws as may effectually prevent the use of them hereafter in the Potomac. Since the introduction of these Nets into our waters, the people of the upper counties have experienced the most pernicious effects of this practice. It is a fact well known, that many persons at the last season, after leaving their homes, with their teams, at the most busy season of the year, and travelling, perhaps, from 50 to 100 miles to reach the nearest landings, and after being detained there a considerable time, exposed to the inclemencies of the weather, and often without any shelter but what was afforded to them by the coverings of their waggons, while their crops too were suffering greatly at home, were obliged at last to return without any fish. Some procured their Herrings, but not one in ten could get the Shad they wanted for their families. These Gill Nets, it is said, are fished almost exclusively by persons from the Eastward—a covetous people they must be:—they would take the bread from our mouths if they could do it—and they certainly will the fish if left to themselves. It is stated they had 500 vessels engaged in this business during the last season; such a number of Nets will form such an obsturction in the river as to keep back the Shad altogether, and by breaking the schools of Herrings will render even the catching of them uncertain. And what adds to our grievance, the fish that are caught in this manner are not disposed of to our citizens, but are cured on board the vessels that take them, and carried as an article of traffic to some other portions of the Union, or, perhaps, to foreign parts.

The people of the upper counties are peculiarly situated; living remote from any of the Rivers, with which nature has so bountifully watered our state, they have only an opportunity affordeded to them once a year of procuring fish of any kind for their families; and it rests with the Legislature to determine whether they shall be deprived of this right, attended as it is too, with great sacrifice, expense and trouble; and it must be known too to the members that may compose that body, that fish, from long use and custom, have become indispensably necessary to our families.

If any doubt should exist as to the facts herein stated, I have only to observe that they will be entirely removed by referring to any one from either of the upper counties, who attended at the landings either of the two last seasons, particularly the last.

Having said much more than I intended, I have only to call upon all those who feel an interest in this business, to lose no time in getting signatures to such a petition as I have recommended,—and also to see and converse upon the subject with such persons as they may think proper to send as delelgates to the next General Assembly; and I have also to request the favor of the editors of the Fredericktown papers, to give these remarks a place in their respective papers, that the subject may be fully brought before the people of the upper counties.
